New York, Sept. 18,-Thirty-six persons are known to be dead, five others are missing and believed to be dead. nd more than 360 persons are known to have been wounded in an explosion between the United States subtreasury building and the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. at Broad and Wall streets, The damage to the great buildings is timated at $1,000,000.

The Morgan building appeared a shambles and part of the front of the subtreasury across the street was torn

William J. Burns, house detective for J. P. Morgan & Co., declared that be is certain that the explosion was by dealgn. Mr. Burns said; "A bomb caused the explosion. There picked up in the nearby office buildings, where they had been hurled by the explosive, could have no other connection with the disaster than to be parts of the bomb and used as its projectiles by some one who had schemed to do the greatest possible damage that could be imagined."

The bomb, he believes, was brought to the corner in a wagon which was brought it. It was composed of a high explosive and had window weights for missiles—thus it was merely a mobile

That is the explosion was an accident ocload of explosives with an automobile, A messenger boy declared that a few minutes before the explosion he saw the wagon that carried the explosives ed at the curb in front of Morgan's by four men. Terrible Explosion in Financial District of New York Laid to Anarchists.

MAY BE PART OF HUGE PLOT

Republicans Say Maine Result Presages Their Victory in November-Attitude of Women Voters Significant-Cox Approves Root's Plan for World Court.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD. New York's financial center was shattered and the entire country shocked on Thursday by a terrible explosion that took the lives of about 30 persons and injured some 300 others. That it was the result of a de- bers having little to say. Mr. Cox, liberate plot by anarchists is the firm belief of federal and local officials, and | rest, and in a recent speech he doubled there is reason to fear that it was but the start of a campaign of terrorism against the financiers of America The explosion came exactly at the pert political opinion is that the govnoon hour, directly in front of the new assay building at Broad and Wall streets adjoining the subtreasury, and across the street from the beautiful J. P. Morgan building. A one-horse truck was standing there and the authorities believe it contained a gigantic bomb that was exploded by a time clock. The deaths and injuries and the damage done to buildings were district. This fact, together with many other developments, furnished a basis for the theory of the officials. After the disaster it was learned that a Wall street employed and the French high commission had both received warning that there would be an explosion in the district on September 15. The letters both came from E. Fischer, formerly an employee of the French commission, and were mailed from Toronto. Fischer is said to be deranged as a result of a nervous breakdown. The victims of the explosion were mostly clerks and messengers. No prominent financier was killed, though many of them had narrow escapes. and Junius Spencer Morgan, son of J. P. Morgan, was cut by flying glass.

If it is still true that "as goes Maine, so goes the nation," the Republicans will score a tremendous victory in November. They swept the Pine Tree state, electing Parkhurst for governor, and all the rest of their ticket by a mejority of about 65,000. Every county in the state went Republican. National leaders of the party, of course, greeted this result with shouts of joy. Nearly 80,000 women went to the polls, and some 60,000 of them voted the Republican ticket. This is regarded as especially significant, for it has been contended that the women of the country would support the League of Nations. The campaign in Maine was conducted largely on national issues, the league issue being foremost, and both parties sent national figures into the state as campaign orators, the Democratic forces being led by Franklin D. Roosevelt, candidate for vice president, and Secretary of the Navy Daniels. Calvin Coolidge, Republican candidate for vice president, Senator Lodge and other heavy guns were there for the Republican ticket, and devoted much of their energies to attacking the Wilson draft of the league. Governor Cox. Mr. Roosevelt, Chairman White and other leading Democrats all refuse to consider Maine a reliable political barometer. Secretary Tumulty, after conferring with Maine result "cannot be considered as indicative of the general result in November."

The impartial observer will accord the greatest importance to the attimay be true that the women of the President Wilson wants it.

Mr. Cox also gave his full approval to the plan for a world court as put forth by Elihu Root and the rest of the advisory commission of jurists. This court, said Mr. Cox. cannot in any way be regarded as a substitute for the league, being rather a part of the covenant-which is quite true. Mr Root sailed for home with the intention of taking part in the national campaign and to urge America to adhere to the international court plan which he is said to regard as the high point of his career. The proposition was taken up for discussion by the eague council when it met in Paris on Thursday. It was expected that Italy and Japan, and perhaps America, would make objection to the article in the constitution of the court which provides for compulsory adjudication. In making public the text of the project the council, in a letter to all league members, said: "The council would regard an irreconcilable difference of opinion on the merits of the scheme as an international misfortune of the gravest kind. It would mean that the league was publicly compelled to admit its incapacity to carry out one of the most important of the tasks which it was invited to perform. The failure would be great and probably irreparable; for, if agreement proves impossible under circumstances apparently so favorable, it is hard to see how and when the task of securing it will be successfully resumed."
